Brand Overview & Personality

Who is Electric Castle?

Electric Castle (EC) is Romania's premier international music and arts festival, held annually at Bánffy Castle in Transylvania. Founded in 2013, it has grown from a boutique gathering to one of Europe's most celebrated festivals, consistently earning international recognition for its blend of music, art installations, and immersive experiences.

EC is not merely a festival — it positions itself as a cultural movement, a temporary city, and a community of free-spirited individuals united by music, creativity, and shared values.

Brand Personality Pillars

- BOLD & DARING — EC pushes creative boundaries. Copy should surprise, delight, and occasionally shock. Never bland, never corporate.
- WARM & INCLUSIVE — Despite its scale, EC speaks like a friend. The tone is personal, never hierarchical. "You" is more common than "the audience".
- AUTHENTIC & HONEST — EC copy never overpromises. It speaks plainly about what the experience is, warts and all (including honest disclaimers about camping).
- IRREVERENT & PLAYFUL — Puns, wordplay, and humor are central to the brand. Rules pages still have personality.
- Romanian PRIDE — EC celebrates its Romanian roots while welcoming the world. Local references (Transylvania, Bánffy Castle, Clujeni) ground the brand in place.

Brand Promise (EN + RO)

Homepage Hero

EN: ~~The greatest party on Earth. Come as you are.~~
 RO: Cel mai mare festival din România. Vino așa cum ești.

About Page Core

EN: ~~Electric Castle is a state of mind, not just a festival.~~
 RO: Electric Castle este o stare de spirit, nu doar un festival.

Audience Persona

Primary: 18–35 year olds, music-passionate, internationally minded, value experiences over possessions. Secondary: families (specific Family Pass exists), international tourists (dedicated /international section), corporate guests (VIP Experience).

The copy always respects audience intelligence. EC never condescends. It assumes the reader knows what a good festival looks like and is here because EC is better.

Tone of Voice — 6 Core Principles

1. CONVERSATIONAL, NOT FORMAL

EC speaks like a knowledgeable friend, not a press release. Short sentences. Contractions welcome. Direct address.

EN: "Got questions? We've got answers."

RO: "Ai întreb ri? Avem r spunsuri."

2. ENERGETIC, NOT SHOUTY

Energy is conveyed through word choice and rhythm, not ALL CAPS or excessive exclamation marks. One "!" per page maximum.

EN: "Four days of pure, unfiltered magic." — NOT: "FOUR AMAZING DAYS!!!"

3. PLAYFUL, NOT SILLY

Wit and wordplay are encouraged. Puns work when they're clever. Avoid slapstick or juvenile humor in primary copy.

EN: "The greatest party on Earth" — confident, playful, without self-parody.

4. INCLUSIVE, NOT EXCLUSIVE

EC is for everyone. Copy avoids jargon that excludes. Accessibility-forward language. Avoid gatekeeping references.

EN: "Whether it's your first or fifth EC — welcome home."

RO: "Fie c e primul sau al cincilea EC — bun venit acas ."

5. INFORMATIVE, NOT OVERWHELMING

Practical info is essential (camping rules, ticket types) but presented in digestible chunks. Use headers, short paragraphs, plain language.

EN: "No glass bottles. No exceptions. Keep the magic safe." (Rules page)

6. BILINGUAL BY DESIGN

EN is primary for international reach; RO is primary for local community. Copy should feel native in both — not translated. Key emotional phrases maintain same rhythm and feeling.

EN: "Come as you are." ! RO: "Vino a_a cum e_ti." — same heartbeat, different language.

Writing Style Rules

Sentence & Paragraph Length

Headlines: 2–6 words preferred. Sub-headlines: 8–15 words. Body paragraphs: 2–4 sentences maximum. Use line breaks generously — white space is part of the design.

Capitalisation

Product names: Always capitalised — Electric Castle, EC Village, EC Radio, Creative Camp, EC Talks, EC App, EC One. Pass names: Capitalised — General Access Pass, VIP Experience, Youth Pass U25, Family Pass, Day Pass. Brand-owned concepts: Capitalised — The Castle, The Great Hall.

- DO: "Book your General Access Pass" / "Descarc EC App"
- DON'T: "book your general access pass" / "descarc ec app"

Numbers & Dates

Spell out 1–9 in body copy; use numerals for 10+. Dates follow local format: "12 iulie 2025" (RO), "July 12, 2025" (EN). Festival years use ordinal: "13th edition", "ediția a 13-a".

Punctuation

- Ellipsis (...) — used for dramatic effect: "The wait is almost over..."
- Em dash (—) — preferred over brackets for asides: "Four stages — one incredible weekend."
- Ampersand (&) — only in UI labels/navigation, never in body copy
- Exclamation marks — maximum one per section, only for genuine celebration

Active vs. Passive Voice

Always prefer active voice. EC is the doer, and so is the user.

Active Preferred

EN: Your adventure starts here.
RO: Aventura ta începe aici.

Passive — Avoid

EN: An adventure will be experienced by attendees.

Contractions & Informal Grammar

English: contractions are standard ("you're", "we've", "it's"). Romanian: informal register is used but grammatically correct. Avoid overly academic or formal constructions in either language.

Sold-Out State

EN: This pass is fully booked. Join the waitlist.

Error, Empty & System States

Error Message Framework

- 1. Acknowledge: State what went wrong in plain language.
- 2. Apologise briefly: One short phrase. Don't grovel.
- 3. Direct: Tell them exactly what to do next.
- 4. Stay warm: Match the EC voice even in failure states.

Form Labels & Microcopy

Help Text Patterns

- "This field is invalid" ! Never. Use specific guidance: "Enter a valid email address"
- Success state: "You're all set!" / "Totul e în regulă!"
- Loading state: "Getting things ready..." / "Pregătim totul..."

Headlines, Taglines & Hero Copy

EC headlines are punchy, poetic, and often use rhythm. They position the festival not as a product but as a transformative experience. Study these patterns before writing any hero copy for the app.

VIP & Premium Copy Register

VIP Experience copy operates in a distinct register — elevated, exclusive, and detail-oriented. It names specific benefits and creates a sense of privilege without being snobbish.

VIP Register Characteristics

- Use sensory language: "savour", "exclusive access", "bespoke", "curated"
- Name specific benefits: don't say "special privileges" — say "dedicated entrance lane"
- Contrast with standard: position VIP as the thoughtful upgrade, not a status symbol
- Romanian VIP copy mirrors the tone but stays warm — Romanians respond to warmth over coldness in luxury contexts

Do's and Don'ts

These guardrails protect the EC brand voice. Apply them to every piece of copy written for the app.

DO

Use specific, vivid language ("four stages", "400+ artists", "Bánffy Castle")

Address users directly: "you", "your", "yours"

Use active voice and strong verbs

Keep sentences short in CTAs and labels (2–5 words)

Include both EN and RO in all customer-facing contexts

Use brand-specific terms (EC Village, Castellers, The Realm)

Celebrate Romanian identity and Transylvanian setting

Use ellipsis (...) for deliberate dramatic pauses

Let personality show in error messages and empty states

Translate emotion, not just words, when localising to RO

DON'T

Don't use ALL CAPS for emphasis (max one word, sparingly)

Don't use multiple exclamation marks (max one per section)

Don't say 'click here' or 'learn more' without context

Don't use 'user' or 'customer' in user-facing copy

Don't use jargon: 'leverage', 'synergy', 'utilise'

Don't write passive: 'tickets can be purchased'

Don't truncate brand names: 'EC app' (lowercase is wrong)

Don't use generic placeholder copy without brand voice

Don't translate literally from EN to RO without review

Don't use 'SOLD OUT' — use 'Fully Booked'/'Epuizat'

Sustainability & Values Copy

Sustainability is a core brand value, not a marketing afterthought. EC copy in this domain is sincere, specific (never vague "we care about the planet"), and action-oriented for the user.

Sustainability Copy Principles

- Be specific — name the actual initiatives (waste sorting, reusable cups, solar power)
- Invite participation — "Join us in making EC greener" not "EC is green"
- Avoid greenwashing language — no "eco-friendly" without proof
- Use second-person: "You can help" / "Tu poti ajuta"
- Celebrate progress — acknowledge where EC has room to grow

Core Sustainability Terms (EN + RO)

Reusable Cup	Pahar Reutilizabil

News & Editorial Copy Style

EC news and editorial content (announcements, lineup reveals, press releases) follows a distinctive style that blends journalistic structure with the brand's warm, energetic personality.

News Headline Formulas

- Artist Announcement: "[Artist] is coming to Electric Castle [Year]!" / "[Artist] vine la Electric Castle [An]!"
- Lineup Reveal: "The Electric Castle [Year] Lineup is Here!" / "Line-Up-ul Electric Castle [An] a sosit!"
- Ticket Sale Open: "Phase [X] Tickets Are Now Available" / "Biletele din Faza [X] sunt disponibile acum"
- Festival Recap: "Electric Castle [Year]: The Numbers, The Memories" / "Electric Castle [An]: Cifrele, Amintirile"

Article Structure (EC Blog Style)

- Lead: 1–2 sentences max. The most important info first, with a hook.
- Body: 3–5 short paragraphs. Each paragraph = one idea. Sub-headlines every 3 paragraphs.
- Closing: Call to action or forward-looking statement. "See you at the castle."

Lineup Announcement Lead

EN: The wait is over. Electric Castle 2025 is bringing its biggest lineup yet — 400+ artists across 8 stages.
 RO: Așteptarea s-a terminat. Electric Castle 2025 vine cu cea mai mare lineup din istorie.

Rules & Legal Copy Patterns

Even in legal and rules contexts, EC maintains its voice. Rules are presented clearly and firmly, but the language never becomes cold or bureaucratic. The brand personality softens the hard edges of regulations.

Rules Copy Principles

- Lead with the reason, not just the rule: "No glass — to keep everyone safe"
- Use "we" to share ownership: "We ask that you..." not "It is prohibited to..."
- Affirmative when possible: "Bring reusable containers" not "Don't bring disposable"
- Reserve firm language for safety rules: "No exceptions" is appropriate for glass, drugs, weapons
